

You are everything to me, and I am truly blessed because I have the chance to talk to you and be loved by you everyday, you are the best thing that ever happened to me and I really hope you'll be there until my last day.

You're the best person I have ever met, I admire you and I hope that you'll always be the happiest human being alive whether I'm there or not because what matters to me is that you're okay.

Thank you so much for being there for me and for existing.

Sorry the presentation is not the best and longest but I love u very much and happy birthday!!♡
